Dear UCLA Alumni and Friends,

Journey to Normandy, a region that has played a key role in the political, religious, cultural and gastronomic development of Western civilization. This program includes an exploration of the historic D-Day beaches and monuments, as well as other highlights of this region, including Mont Saint-Michel, the Bayeux Tapestry and the charming port town of Honfleur.

Joining us is UCLA professor Sara Melzer, Department of French and Francophone Studies. Professor Melzer specializes in the cultural and literary history of France. A faculty member for over 25 years, she has published two books and multiple articles on early modern France. Her most recent book, co-authored with a “symposia” history of the French church and state presented interregional marriages between American Indians and the French, the current research project presented to the comparative literature on the social science screen as a window through which to understand French culture and France-American relations. She speaks each summer in Paris and has traveled widely in France, learning about both the wonders of its culture.

This trip combines the security, ease and value of group travel with opportunities for independent exploration. Enjoy the camaraderie of traveling with a group and still have time to make your own discoveries.

Space is limited, and this remarkable trip is sure to sell out quickly, so make your reservations today!
