Dear UCLA Alumni and Friends,

Discover Normandy, one of the most beautiful regions in France and one of the most storied. This year marks the 70th anniversary of D-Day, when Allied troops landed on Normandy beaches to begin the liberation of Western Europe. Poor weather in the weeks prior to D-Day disrupted the invasion, but the winds broke up on June 6, allowing the Allied troops to land in Normandy. This D-Day anniversary trip is a fitting way to commemorate the event.

This 9-day trip will include visits to all the key sites involved in the D-Day invasion and subsequent liberation of Normandy. You will have the opportunity to engage with history and culture, and get an insider's view of this significant historical event.

We have negotiated special fares and provided special advantages for travelers through our AHI Travel's exclusive Air Program. This program provides special disadvantages for travelers, which offers a 10% discount on full-price air transportation.

A dedicated Passenger Service Representative will be on hand to assist you with any travel needs you may have during your trip. This includes assisting with travel documents, arranging for local transportation, and answering any questions you may have.

Please note that air prices will be sent to you with your Reservation Confirmation and air schedule sent at 90 days before departure. On June 6, 1944, despite mounting resistance, the British and Americans, along with the forces of allied troops landed along a 50-mile stretch of the Normandy coastline. This invasion—code-named Operation Overlord—would be the beginning of the end of the Third Reich. The Allies landed on Normandy at five locations—Omaha, Utah, Gold, Juno, and Sword—on June 6, 1944 in the face of heavy German resistance. As they approached the beaches, the soldiers disembarked and waded through waist-deep water, dodging machine gun fire. The British and Canadian forces overcame light opposition to capture the beaches. The German border with France was crossed on June 11, and by the end of that day, the Allies had gained a foothold in France. As the soldiers began their march across Europe with one clear mission—to defeat Hitler—the invasion proved to be the beginning of the end of World War II. Walk through history on this exclusive journey through Normandy, featuring two full days of exploration that highlight the critical military victory.

D-DAY AND THE BATTLE OF NORMANDY

Dear UCLA Alumni and Friends,

Discover Normandy, one of the most beautiful regions in France, as you’ve never seen it before. This year marks the 70th anniversary of D-Day, when Allied troops invaded Normandy and triggered the beginning of the end of WWII. Visit the same beachhead areas today, reviving the beaches, watermarks and landscapes of the future invasion area. This skillfully crafted program also includes other highlights of the region, including the iconic Bayeux tapestry. You’ll fly from LAX to the historic city of Paris-Saint-Michel and Charlie Chaplin’s beautiful home at Giverny.

Joining us is UCLA professor Sara Melzer, Director, Alumni Travel, who has been an expert in the history of France and the French. Her current research project is “The Contemporary War and the French:-looking at the world through the lens of the French military,” a study that is supported by the National Endowment for the Humanities, and the UCLA Academy Awards. She spends much of her time in Paris and has traveled widely in France, being in touch with many of the sites in person.

The real appeal of this once-in-a-lifetime trip is not in unusual, unique accommodations; the official hotels—among the world’s most luxurious; or the impressive array of entertainment. Rather, it is being a part of the events surrounding the D-Day invasion and those historical sites connected to it. This trip is unique in that you will be among the first-person eyewitness to one of the most memorable events in history. The opportunity to visit these sites is limited and the events are fast-paced.

This trip is to discover and immerse yourself among other campus alumni:
